

Grading criteria

1. All materials presented during the lecture (slides, examples, additional materials, etc.) are available on the course website.
2. It is obligatory to know all the material presented during the lectures, the knowledge from additional materials is not necessary.
3. The final exam takes place at the last class meeting. The exam is divided into two parts:
 - basic part (test with single answer) including questions about definitions and knowledge of basic issues of programming in VBA in Excel,
 - extended part (open-ended questions or/and test with multiple answers) including tasks checking the ability to use VBA to solve practical problems.

The necessary condition for passing the exam is obtaining more than 50% of points from the basic part. A detailed list of topics will be published on the course website at the end of the semester.
